Mrs Christine Phillips applied to volunteer as admin before the pandemic in February 2020. Since then has supported clients via telephone befriending providing that much needed communication with people who would not hear from anyone

Miss Olivia Brett has provided shopping for those clients that were shielding, self-isolating or worried to go out. Her clients found her reliable and friendly, Olivia was able to identify issues or struggles people faces and fed that back to us for extra support where needed with over 30 hours of community resilience support

Lisa Jones has volunteered since the pandemic by telephoning clients and shopping for those clients that were shielding, self-isolating or worried to go out. Lisa continues to support client weekly and is always the first to say she can help with over 150 Hours of community resilience support and telephone befriending

Helen Boucher has supported clients through telephone befriending since April 2020, Helen has been that constant contact with her clients identifying when there were issues and feeding that back. Helen has volunteered over 100 hours

Stacey Vincent has provided shopping for those clients that were shielding, self-isolating or worried to go out. Stacey works full time and still found time to support those most vulnerable in the community by being a community resilience volunteer. Stacey has been a life line for those desperate for support with over 200 hours of volunteer support

Catrin Phillips volunteered at the start of the pandemic telephone befriending clients who would not speak to another person for a conversation. Since then Catrin has organised her community of Coity into gathering over 27 sensory boxes for Age Connects Morgannwg's Christmas 2020 appeal and has since applied for funding which was successful to help our volunteer supporting clients in the community to continue
